NIXON
used in public since becoming President.
This came at a time when many Republicans as well as Democrats had concluded Nixon would remain a rather placid and passive chief executive.
Just a week earlier the muted Nixon approach of the first nine months was evident in a special message he sent Congress. Wrote Nixon: "Neither the Democratic Congress nor the Republican administration is without fault for the delay of vital legislation."
On Inauguration Day, Nixon had urged that all citizens lower their voices and discuss national issues in a quiet, rational manner. For nine months, the lowered voice was a hallmark of the Nixon presidency—to the point where more than one fellow Republican wished Nixon would not only speak softly but, in the tradition of Theodore Roosevelt, carry a big stick.
The stick surfaced last week. Only time will tell whether the week marked a turning point in Nixon's fortunes, which have been at their lowest ebb since January. Of itself, the surprise counterattack against critics of Haynsworth did not appear to be a decisive event in history. But it came in a week that saw Nixon gain unexpected latitude for maneuver on a far more important issue, the Vietnam war.
Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, a persistent critic of Vietnam policy, told newsmen Nixon had significantly altered past policy and, in effect, had ordered a standstill cease-fire.
Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee announced that "as a matter of courtesy" he was postponing public hearings on the war until after a Nov. 3 Nixon address to the nation on the subject.
After weeks of cumulative reverses, the Nixon White House could only feel grateful for such courtesies and hope they presaged brighter days to come.
Since Labor Day, the march of events has not been especially kind to the President. Moreover, Indian summer saw his share of tumbling on the part of the administration. It became fashionable to observe that Nixon was in deep trouble.
This week, however, a top presidential assistant insisted, "There's no autumn of discontent around here."

APPOINTMENT
about 47 acres of Virgil Wingo's 365 acre farm in Conway County for construction of Interstate 40.
Highway Commission witnesses testified that Wingo was due damages of less than $9,000. A witness for Wingo testified he was due $17,675 and Wingo testified that he was due $30,453. The jury gave Wingo $19,000. The commission appealed on grounds that the amount granted by the jury was excessive.
The Supreme Court unanimously ruled that testimony supported the amount settled on by the jury.
The high court reversed the conviction of Raymond Chenoweth from Russellville on 10 counts of forgery and uttering on grounds that Circuit Court Judge Russell C. Roberts erred in failing to hold a hearing to determine whether confessions by Chenoweth were voluntary.
Chenoweth was convicted last June 6 by a jury for forging a check for more than $22,000. He was given a five-year sentence.
Harold Hampton, an employee of Peoples Bank & Trust Co. of Russellville, and Robert E. Irwin, Chenoweth's attorney, went to Chenoweth in Tulsa, Okla., "to get Chenoweth to admit forgery as far as he knew of the notes involved," according to the trial record.
Chenoweth signed affidavits on some of the accounts and these affidavits were introduced in his trial. Associate Justice Conley Byrd said in the court's opinion that the Circuit Court should have held a hearing to determine whether the confessions were voluntary before admitting them into evidence. The case was sent back to the lower court.
By a 4-3 decision, the Supreme Court reversed the conviction on Terry Pitts, 27, and his brother Larry, 20, both formerly of Springdale, in charges of burglary and grand larceny in the theft of two horses, saddles, and other tack stolen in the Fayetteville area last March.
The Pitts brothers appealed on grounds that testimony of Paul Vanderboom, 18, of Fayetteville, who said he was an accomplice to the crimes, was not sufficiently corroborated.
Writing for the majority, Associate Justice George Rose Smith said that while the Pitts brothers owned a truck and trailer apparently involved in the theft "ownership of a vehicle used in the commission or larceny does not sufficiently corroborate the testimony of an accomplice."
Smith noted other items of evidence raised a suspicion of guilt but said, "Corroborating evidence which merely raises a suspicion of guilt is not enough."
Associate Justice John A. Fogleman wrote the dissenting opinion for himself, Harris, and Jones.
He said he agreed with the majority that no single act contested in the appeal was sufficient corroboration of Vanderboom's testimony, but added that when all of the acts were considered together it was proper to present the matter to a jury.
"Corroboration may be circumstantial, as well as direct," he wrote.
The Supreme Court upheld the appeal of Zeachel Thomas Henderson from a Circuit Court action at Fayetteville in a damage case stemming from an auto accident.
William A. Skerzack had sued Henderson for personal injuries, but a jury ruled in Henderson's favor. Twenty four days later Skerzack filed a motion for a new trial. Circuit Court granted the motion.
Henderson's appeal contended the motion was not filed soon enough.
Justice Lyle Brown said in

Officials of Rotary to Speak Here

Rotarians will welcome on October 30th and 31st the governor of this Rotary district, Lee B. Spencer of Conway. He will address the Rotary Club of Hope, one of the 30 in his district, and will confer with Mr. N. B. Coleman, President of the local Rotary club and with other club officials to obtain information on the group's plans for its service activities and to offer suggestions on Rotary Administrative matters.
Mr. Spencer is one of 298 Rotary governors throughout the world who are serving as representatives of Rotary International in districts composed of member clubs. Each district leader is responsible for supervising the clubs in his area. Rotary an international men's service organization, has more than 654,000 Rotarians in some 13,824 clubs in 146 countries.
A member and past secretary of the Rotary Club of Conway, Mr. Spencer is Head Librarian at the State College of Arkansas. He was elected to office at the Rotary Convention in Honolulu, Hawaii, U.S.A., in May, 1969, and will serve until June 30, 1970.
Although a seasoned Rotarian before his election to the office of district governor, Mr. Spencer attended an eight-day international assembly last May at Lake Placid, New York, U.S.A., at which all Rotary governors for 1969-70 attended in-depth seminars to plan for their jobs. One of his biggest jobs will be to hold a district conference for all Rotary clubs in this area. The conference will be held in Hot Springs in April.

Bernard ran last year for the U.S. Senate position held by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, but got what appeared to be an unenthusiastic endorsement from Rockefeller.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

ARE DIVORCED PEOPLE LOW ON TRUST?

Dear Helen: I am a widow who just recently started "re-entry" into life, after a year of wondering why I was alive.

Those "singles clubs" you describe, Helen, are wonderful ways to stop feeling alone. People meet to dance, play cards, go on excursion trips, and even though you don't pair off, you're part of the world again.

But I've discovered a great difference between the divorced and the widowed. We who have lost our partners by death—we're far in the minority—have a healthier outlook. The divorced persons are bitter, cagey, untrusting. Somehow you don't really reach them. They say all the nice, pleasant words, but you get the feeling they believe in neither themselves nor you.

I'm not considering marriage right now, but after meeting many divorced "eligibles," I think I'll wait for an elusive widower. Maybe this is why divorces "run in families." Bitterness kills love.—WIDOW

Dear Widow: You can't blame divorced persons for being wary. Their protection against further hurts is the stand-off—until they are sure. Don't eliminate ALL THOSE "eligibles" on a sweeping judgement. The right partner can erase bitterness. She MIGHT be you.—H.

Dear Helen: Shortly after my grandmother died, a young woman moved in with Grandpa. She was supposed to be his housekeeper, but we had our doubts. When he died, she got a lot of his belongings.

Grandpa's best friend moved into his house, and evidently inherited the "housekeeper" too. Now this old boy—he's 72—is spending money like crazy, and otherwise living it up with his new gal. He buys her fancy clothes and takes her out on the town—constantly.

It's his money, of course, and he might as well use it, as he has no direct descendants, being a bachelor. But we hate to see him get taken. Is there any way we can save him?—CONCERNED

Dear Concerned: I doubt Grandpa's best friend wants to be saved. As you say, he's living it up. So let him!—While there's still time.—H.

Dear Helen: Our club group was discussing advice columnists recently. Tell us, Helen, do you argue with your children like us ordinary mortals? Do your kids (sigh!) always agree with what you say?—WISHING

Dear Wishing: No way! We have some lovely arguments, our kids and I—and also their father, (who is sometimes on one side, sometimes on the other). Believe me, I don't always win! Nor would I want to. We learn from each other.

If my children thought exactly as I do, I'd consider I'd failed as a parent. Who wants a carbon copy when, with lively "discussion" (and a lot of listening), you can produce an original?—H.

Dear Helen: I like this saying: "Happiness is a perfume you cannot pour on others without spilling a few drops on yourself." As the mother of a wonderful adopted boy (who has more than filled our lives with joy) I know this is true.—MRS. D.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — There is some special quality about live television—as opposed to film, tape and "live on tape" programs—that makes the audience an involved spectator.

So it was Sunday when CBS and a couple of unobtrusive sponsors graciously permitted the nation to attend ceremonies—as they occurred—that marked the completion of New York's Lincoln Center with the addition of the famed Juilliard School of Music.

The move of the school into the complex makes Lincoln Center "a university of the performing arts," as Leonard Bernstein phrased it. It is already the home of the Metropolitan Opera, the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, other musical groups, a ballet and several theater and film organizations.

The home viewer felt like a member of the audience during the entire 90-minute program. From the arrival of distinguished guests including the first lady—to the ovations at the end.

The fine 80-member orchestra composed of serious young Juilliard students was conducted by Leopold Stokowski—youth and age in perfect harmony. They were followed by solo appearances of three of Juilliard's distinguished young alumni—Israel Ilia violinist Itzhak Perlman; Metropolitan Opera soprano Shirley Verret, and pianist Van Cliburn.

It was excellent coverage of a happy event—the kind critics often accuse television of ignoring.

"The Wonderful World of Disney" on NBC also is a happy program and has been for so many years that it is now a Sunday evening institution, particularly in homes with young children.

Sometimes the hour is filled with nature studies; sometimes comedy; sometimes cartoon and fantasy, but it is always family-oriented.

This week's episode was a combination western-comedy about three ostriches. The plot was rudimentary—life on an old West "feather farm." The dialogue was early Roy Rogers. The narration was highly anthropomorphic—we were constantly told what the ostriches were thinking about in highly human terms. But after an hour the viewer—young or old—had learned painlessly a lot about that strange-looking, fast-running and fearless bird.

The funniest joke on NBC's new daytime "Letters to

Rotarians Hear Jerry Westmoreland

"We are building our memories now," Jerry Westmoreland of the KXAR staff told Hope Rotarians and guests at a noon meeting last Friday in the Town and Country. The best crowd of the year—with 100 per cent attendance—heard a program equal to the occasion.

The speaker, who also ministers to the congregations of 7 rural Methodist churches, had an inspirational message after a few ice-breaking stories. He told of the high and holy purpose of mankind and the things that matter most in this life. In discussing values, he said, "God has made us all for something great."

The program chairman, Dr. Emmett Thompson, introduced the speaker. The president Ben Coleman welcomed two visiting Rotarians, Tom Callan of Nashville and Ben Harding of Prescott, all the Hope Rotarians, and 6 guests, Leonard Zimmerman, Peoria, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hart, Alexandria, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lowthorp, Possum Kingdom, Tex.; and Lyman Armstrong, Madison, Ind.

LSU, UCLA Happy With Outcome

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The offensive players do most of the blocking in football, but UCLA and Louisiana State were well satisfied with the kind turned in Saturday by a defensive end and a linebacker.

The former was Vince Blesch, who blocked a last-second 32-yard field goal attempt to preserve sixth-ranked UCLA's 20-20 tie with 10th-rated Stanford. The latter was George Bevan, who blocked a conversion kick in the final period and saved ninth-ranked LSU's 21-20 triumph over 14th-rated Auburn.

Those were the weekend's key college games, along with a pair of Big Eight shockers—Kansas State's incredible 59-21 mauling of Oklahoma and Colorado's 31-24 upset of fifth-ranked Missouri. They left the bowl picture up in the air.

The Pacific-8, where the winner goes to the Rose Bowl, undoubtedly will go down to the finals, a Nov. 22 meeting between UCLA, 3-0-1, in the league and 6-6-1 over-all, and seventh-ranked Southern California, 2-0-0 and 5-0-1. The Trojans rallied for two late touchdowns to beat Georgia Tech 29-18 in a non-conference game.

In the hectic Southern Conference, which generally supplies a couple of bowl teams, LSU moved into a first-place tie at 2-0 with 10th-ranked Florida, a 41-20 victor over Vanderbilt behind John Reeves' record-tying five touchdown passes, and third-ranked Tennessee, only member of the Associated Press' Top Twenty to have the weekend off. Over-all, LSU and Florida are 6-0, Tennessee 5-0.

The Big Eight finds Kansas State, ranked 18th last week but certain to move up, on top with 3-0 (5-1 over-all) to 2-1 and 5-1 for Missouri and 2-1 and 4-2 for Colorado and Nebraska. K-State plays at Missouri this Saturday.

Nowhere is the situation as jumbled as in the Big Ten, which really is the Big One—top-rated Ohio State—and the Little Nine—everyone else.

The mighty Buckeyes, ineligible to return to the Rose Bowl, made it 19 in a row with a 41-0 thumping of Illinois for a 3-0 league mark and 5-0 over-all. Indiana, Michigan, Northwestern, Purdue and Wisconsin are deadlocked for second at 2-1.

All except Indiana must play Ohio State. The Hoosiers merely have to contend with Michigan State, Iowa, Northwestern and Purdue.

The Southwest Conference boils down to the Dec. 6 clash between second-ranked Texas, a 31-0 winner over Rice, and fourth-rated Arkansas, which clobbered non-league Wichita State 52-14.

Kansas State's blasting of 12th-ranked Oklahoma gained the Wildcats some measure of revenge for 35 years of frustration at the hands of the Sooners since an 8-7 triumph in 1934. Lynn Dickey, a junior quarterback, gunned the Sooners down with three touchdown passes and Big Eight records of 28 completions and 380 yards.

Colorado's Bob Anderson broke loose for 134 yards, two touchdowns and career scoring and rushing records as the Buffs tripped Missouri.

Elsewhere in the Top Ten—not to be confused with the Big Ten—eighth-ranked Penn State spotted Ohio University a 3-0 lead before leveling the over-matched Bobcats 42-3.

In the Second Ten, 12th-ranked Notre Dame crushed Tulane 37-0; Georgia, No. 15 blanked Kentucky 30-0; No. 15 Purdue flattened Northwestern 42-20 as quarterback Mike Phipps set career total offense and passing records.

Razorbacks Romp Over Wichita

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Quarterback John Eichler might not start another game for the Arkansas Razorbacks this season, but his name will go down in the record books.

In a 52-14 victory over Wichita State Saturday, Eichler completed 23 of 41 passes for 279 yards. The 23 completions were one more than Bill Montgomery had against Baylor last year and the 41 passes were the most ever thrown by an Arkansas quarterback.

Ironically, it was Montgomery that Eichler was subbing for.

It was appropriate that Eichler had a record-setting afternoon. The WSU game was his first start since 1967. He has kept plugging, staying ready in case he was needed.

"Eichler was on target, no question about it," coach Frank Broyles said. "We knew he could pick them apart with his passing and he did. He is a very accurate passer."

"This game will be one of the biggest memories in my life," Eichler said after the game. "It's nice to start again, and take part in a win."

Besides showing that the team could function effectively without Montgomery, the Razorbacks also unveiled several new plays:

—A fullback pass by Bruce Maxwell

—An end around by tight end Pat Morrison.

—A flanker around by John Rees

—And, a pro sweep to the weakside with Maxwell covering.

"We have been a little stereotyped with Maxwell blocking and (Bill) Burnett doing the running," Broyles said. "Getting the ball to Maxwell should help balance our running. He's a great outside runner."

Montgomery, who was recovering from rib and thigh injuries, is expected to play Saturday against Texas A&M at Fayetteville as its flanker Chuck Dicus. Both suited out Saturday.

However, the Razorbacks will be without their kickoff specialist and possibly their middle linebacker.

Kicker Tim Webster suffered a knee injury Saturday and is out for the season.

Linebacker Cliff Powell received a hyper-extension of his elbow. Broyles said he would be out for one to three weeks.

The Texas A&M game will be the first of five straight Southwestern Conference opponents for the Razorbacks. A&M beat Baylor 24-0 Saturday at College Station.

$200,000 Race Barrier Broken by Yarbrough

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

Stock car race driver Lee Roy Yarbrough broke the $200,000 barrier and New Zealander Denis Hulme took another giant step toward the Canadian-American Challenge Cup road racing championship during the weekend.

Yarbrough, a 31-year-old Ford team driver from Columbia, S.C., won the American 500 mile stock car race at Rockingham, N.C., Sunday to register his seventh big speedway victory of the season.

The 17,600,000 first-place money carried his take from the NASCAR Grand National circuit this year to more than $185,000. He also picked up about $21,000.00 in other races this season.

David Pearson, also a Ford team driver, finished second in the Rockingham race to clinch his second NASCAR driving title in a row. And his $10,225.00 check boosted his season's total to more than $178,000.00.

Hulme won the $60,000.00 Can-Am race at Riverside Calif., and ran his victory string in this million dollar series to eight. His car owner and driving partner, fellow New Zealander Bruce McLaren, spun off the course during the 34th lap while running second.

McLaren had gone into the Riverside race with a five-point edge—145 to 140—over Hulme. The 34 year old former world driving champion earned 10 points Sunday while McLaren got none.

The final race in the series, with the driving title at stake and with a $50,000.00 bonus that goes to the champion, will be held at the new Texas International Speedway Nov. 9.

Oakland Is Still on top of League

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

O.J. Simpson is running less... and enjoying it more.

Buffalo's foot-loose yearling says he prefers the role of pass catcher to runner because "it springs me into the open and gives me a chance to operate."

Simpson saw enough daylight Sunday to grab four passes for 60 yards, but the Bills dropped a 24-6 American Football League game to Miami anyway.

"We get behind so fast and often that we have to throw and never get to establish a ground attack," said Simpson, who collected a mere 12 yards rushing in 10 tries Sunday. "You've got to run a lot to get your timing... and I'm a little shaky in hitting the holes."

Elsewhere in the AFL Sunday, Oakland dropped San Diego, 24-12, to stay atop the tight Western Division scramble; Kansas City kept close behind Oakland by bombing Cincinnati, 42-22; New York kept its lead in the Eastern Division, whipping Boston, 23-18, and Houston tripped Denver, 24-21.

In the National Football League Sunday, Green Bay smashed Atlanta, 28-10; Minnesota spilled Detroit, 24-10; Los Angeles defeated Chicago, 9-7; Washington spanked Pittsburgh, 14-7; Philadelphia took New Orleans, 13-10; San Francisco stunned Baltimore, 24-21, and St. Louis held Cleveland to a 21-21 tie. New York plays at Dallas tonight.

Simpson, a player of great expectations after a gaudy college career, now has picked up 292 yards rushing in 82 attempts—the credentials of a mere mortal.

"I've got a long-term contract... and maybe that's a good thing the way I'm coming along," he says, tongue in cheek.

But the heralded runner has also gained 197 yards on 16 catches.

Bob Griese's quarterbacking finally got Miami's stuttering offense on the track in the last half. He unleashed touchdown passes of 41 yards to Larry Seiple and 53 to Jim Kwik to lead down the Dolphins' first victory of the season after five losses and a tie.

Daryle Lamonica, having his finest season, threw three touchdown passes and Dave Grayson picked off three aerials to help Oakland down San Diego. It was the Raiders' 15th regular season triumph without a loss over two seasons, tying an AFL record set by San Diego in 1960-61.

Lamonica, completing 19 of 26 passes for 236 yards, boosted his league leading touchdown pass total to 20. Grayson's three interceptions gave the Oakland safety six for the season and 45 in his nine-year career, tying the AFL record for lifetime thefts.

Kansas City halted Cincinnati's comeback bid and pulled off a pair of late lightning scores to bounce the Bengals. Warren McVea romped 80 yards to a touchdown with 1:45 to go and Goldie Sellers picked up a fumble and rambled for another score eight seconds later.

Emerson Boozier knifed through Boston for a touchdown and Jim Turner kicked a field goal to cap fourth-period drives that gave New York its victory over the fired-up Patriots.

Houston scored 10 points in the final 11 minutes to come from behind and nip Denver.

Cats Prove They Can Be Real Power

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

So now we know. The Hope Bobcats, proving to be a true 4-AA power, hammered the Magnolia Panthers 21-0 last Friday night at Hammons Stadium.

It was a combination of both offensive and defensive factors that pushed the Bobcat's record to 6-2 for the season, and dropped Magnolia to 4-3. The Panthers had been ranked 5th among Arkansas' Class AA schools.

The game also marked the return to form of Artis Martin after a nagging ankle injury had virtually kept him out of action for two Fridays. Against Magnolia, the senior tailback gained a whopping 192 yards rushing on 27 carries for one score, and added a 33-yard TD pass to Roger Newton that gave the Cats a 14-0 lead on the last play of the first quarter.

QB Ronnie Massanelli passed three yards to end Lee Davis for the first touchdown, capping a 78-yard drive highlighted by a 52-yard Massanelli-to-Still bomb.

Throughout the first three periods Magnolia moved the ball fairly easily with quarterback Bill Daugherty passing and 210-pound fullback Wayne Miles carrying the mail overland.

However, the Bobcats picked off four of Daugherty's passes, each one stopping a Panther advance into Hope territory. And the Cats showed off the defense by halting Magnolia three times on downs, including once when the Panthers had fourth down with half a yard to paydirt.

That was midway in the second quarter, and was a big test of confidence for the Hope defense.

Then the offense, proud but still determined, ground out 141 yards rushing in two Bobcat drives with flankerback Newton in a strong set backfield as another halfback. One move wound up in a missed field-goal by Ronny Brown, but the last 68-yard advance iced the 21-0 shutout with Martin's eight-yard sweep to paydirt.

Hope has now won its first four home games, and this week meets a fellow 6-2 power in Camden Friday night for the Panther's Homecoming on Halloween.

Camden edged Warren 6-0 last Friday on Warren's Homecoming to move one win away from a 4-AA East tie with Magnolia and Crossett.

So this week Hope can have the distinction of playing its second 4-AA East titlist, and whipping both in the process as the West's Arkadelphia already has done.

Tonight the "B" Lizards host the Arkadelphia jayvees at Hammons Stadium at 7:45 p.m., as Hope tries to improve on its 1-5 record.

Some questions have been raised regarding this column last Wednesday, which as printed clearly implies that this writer was belittling the Bobcat team and coaching staff. I truly apologize if any statements could have been interpreted in any way as degrading the team and coaches, looking at the 6-2 record as evidence of the fine effort given so far.

Carol Mann Rallies for Victory

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Tall Carol Mann, the LPGA's richest member, rallied with a birdie 3 on the final hole and then beat Kathy Whitworth in a sudden death play-off Sunday to win the third annual $15,000 Civitan Open at the Pharoahs Country Club.

Miss Mann, who established a new LPGA money record with a victory worth $2,500, shot a final round 68-58 Saturday for a 212 total, a tournament record. She won it with a par 4 on the third extra hole.

Miss Mann broke Miss Whitworth's 1968 record of $48,379, and now has banked $48,765 and captured eight tournaments this year.

Indians on Road to Second Title

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas State University's sophomore backs, tailback Calvin Harrell, fullback Marshall Walls and quarterback James Hamilton, put the Indians on the road to their second consecutive Southland Conference title here Saturday.

The three rushed for more than 350 yards as the Indians knocked off Abilene Christian College 34-22.

It was ACC's first loss, ACC quarterback Jim Lindsey completed 21 of 37 passes for 327 yards, but had four intercepted by the alert ASU secondary.

Harrell scored two touchdowns and gained 161 yards on 35 carries. Walls, who scored once, picked up 145 yards on 24 attempts and Hamilton, who only threw 13 passes, rambled 56 yards on 14 tries.

The Indians trailed 14-13 in the third quarter, but went ahead to stay on Orley Massena's 40-yard interception return.

Cordero's saddle slipped forward, and he was hanging on as Elmdorf's 3-year-old Oil Power finished third, nine lengths back of Nodouble.

There were two other six-figure races Saturday, both for 2-year-old fillies. Wheatley Stable's Predictable won the $122,480 Stakes at Laurel, and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen H. Elmore's Opening Bid took the $116,425 at Santa Anita.

Arts and Letters carried 119 pounds, three less than Nodouble and three more than Harem Lady, over the two miles in 3:25.5. He paid a winning total of $2.60 in earning $69,030 to boost his career bankroll to $574,502, all but $18,898 this year.

Golden Lions 2-Point Try Fails

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas AM&N failed on a two-point conversion late in the fourth quarter and Prairie View went on from there for a 22-14 Southwest Athletic Conference victory over the Golden Lions here Saturday.

AM&N trailed 15-14 with less than four minutes remaining when Prairie View stopped Asa Stevenson inches short of the goal on the two-point try.

AM&N had another drive stopped at the Prairie View 25 later in the final period when Charles Harkless fumbled and Prairie View recovered. Five plays later, Gentry Puvell plunged one yard for Prairie View's final touchdown.

In only six National Basketball Association games super-rookie Lew Alcindor has had nothing but critical acclaim. Another talented NBA newcomer, Connie Hawkins of Phoenix, has had:

A surgery-tender knee.
An impacted wisdom tooth.
Tonsillitis.
As a result Milwaukee is off to a 4-2 season start and Phoenix is wallowing at 2-5, including a 119-99 defeat to Milwaukee in Phoenix Sunday night.

In the only other NBA game Sunday, the Los Angeles Lakers withstood a 45-point fourth quarter by Chicago and beat the Bulls 129-125 for their fifth straight victory.

Discrimination in Sports Is Discussed

DUBROVNIK, Yugoslavia (AP) — Discrimination in sports dominated a two-day meeting of national Olympic committees with the International Olympic Committee's executive board indicating today that South Africa's future role in the Olympic movement was seriously in doubt.

The conferences at this picturesque Adriatic resort were designed to discuss wide range of subjects related to sports but the discrimination issue held the spotlight. The I.O.C. executive board met this morning to review the proposals of the past few days but it was obvious that very little was accomplished here.

A two-day meeting of the permanent general assembly of the national committees that ended Thursday night set the stage for the joint conferences with the executive board. Black Africans demanded the expulsion of South Africa and end to discrimination in sports.

African delegates threatened a walkout if the executive board failed to decide on South African and Rhodesian participation at the meetings.

However, the executive board announced that the 74 member I.O.C. at Amsterdam in May will examine and decide South Africa's future position.

Rams Have to Use Field Goals to Win

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Steve Spurrier cradled the game ball after the San Francisco 49ers upset the Baltimore Colts in the National Football League Sunday. Someone asked him if quarterbacking the game the way he did was the biggest thing he had ever done in football.

"In pro ball, it's the only thing I've done," Spurrier said. "I played some better games in college."

Spurrier won the Heisman Trophy in 1966 for his heroics at Florida and then sat around a couple of years as No. 3 quarterback for San Francisco. He became backup man for John Brodie last month when George Mira was traded to Philadelphia.

He got the proverbial big break in Baltimore because of Brodie's sore arm, and completed 18 of 30 passes for 205 yards and one touchdown in the 49ers' 24-21 victory, their first this season. This coupled with Los Angeles' 9-7 decision over Chicago, all but wrote off the Colts as contenders for anything important in the NFL this year.

The Colts have won three and lost three in their defense of the league title and will be very hard pressed to catch the Rams in the Coastal Division which is step one to the Super Bowl.

In other games, Minnesota, 5-1, beat Detroit, 3-3, 24-10; Green Bay, 4-2, whipped Atlanta, 2-4, 28-10, Cleveland, 4-1-1, and St. Louis, 2-3-1, played to a 21-21 tie.

Washington, 4-1, overpowered Pittsburgh, 1-5, 14-7, and Philadelphia, 2-4, edged New Orleans, 0-6, 13-10. The New York Giants play the unbeaten Cowboys in Dallas tonight.

In the AFL, the New York Jets beat Boston, 23-17, Oakland turned back San Diego 24-12; Kansas City crushed Cincinnati 42-22, Houston got by Denver 24-21, and Miami clobbered Buffalo 24-6.

The Los Angeles-Chicago game was enough to make the Rams' weekly post-game prayer sessions mean something, for the Bears very nearly won. The Rams won it on three field goals by Bruce Gossett and the Bears lost it on an interception on the Rams' 34 when they were trying to set up a field goal in the last quarter.

Minnesota remained a game in front in the Central Division on the passing of Joe Kapp, a defense which he the Lions to 12 net yards in the third period, and three interceptions by Earl Sell Mackbee, a cornerback who opposing quarterbacks usually try to stay away from.

"Detroit probably looked at the films and saw no one had been throwing to my side, so they tried it," Mackbee figured.

The Lions dropped into third place in the Central Division behind Green Bay and also were a little annoyed about having to take cold showers at Minnesota's Metropolitan Stadium.

It was nearly all Donny Anderson for the Packers. The $600,000 running back made his first start of the season and rushed for 114 yards, his best ever as a Packer, and also ran 16 yards for Green Bay's first touchdown. Anderson lost his starting job during the exhibition season and until Sunday's game, had carried the ball only twice—for two yards.

The Cardinals stayed in contention in the Century Division by tying the game in the last eight seconds. John Gilliam grabbed a 15-yard scoring pass from Charley Johnson and caught two other touchdown passes earlier. The Browns who lead the division, took a 21-14 lead with 2:11 left to play.

Vince Lombardi's Redskins inched closer to Dallas in the Capitol Division with two third-period touchdowns which wiped out Pittsburgh's 7-0 lead. Quarterback Sonny Jurgensen accounted for both. He scored one on a 10-yard run and passed 17 yards to Charlie Taylor for the other.

Terry Hanratty, the former Notre Dame star starting in his first pro game, connected on a seven-yard touchdown pass to Earl Gros in the first quarter.

Two field goals by Sam Baker and quarterback Norm Snead's bootleg run carried the Eagles past the winless Saints.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Gary Bettenhausen clinched the USAC sprint car championships Sunday with a first and a second place in two races at the New York State Fairgrounds.

Bettenhausen won the first 50-mile run to collect 100 points toward the title and was second in the second race for 80 points.

Henderson Wins, Ouachita Is Beaten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The non-believers, once No. 6 — Ouachita Baptist University. The Harding Bisons, winless in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference the past two years, made a believer of Ouachita Saturday 24-16. Harding is now 5-0-1 for the season and tied with Henderson for the AIC lead.

Arkansas A&M scared Henderson, before Tommy Hart took over and moved the Reddies to a 47-14 victory.

In other action, State College of Arkansas scored its first conference victory of the season, whipping Southern State 28-20 and Arkansas Tech, the defending champion, dropped a non-conference game to Tarleton, Tex., 19-17.

Ouachita's loss was its first in the conference and dropped the Tigers one game behind the Bisons and the Reddies.

None of the three teams seems to have a schedule advantage.

All three must play two of their three conference opponents on the road.

Ouachita held a 16-8 lead Jerry Copeland passed 35 yards to Harry Starnes and the Bisons converted their second of three two-point extra points. Bruce Efrid put OBU back ahead with a 36-yard field goal, but George Caffey's second touchdown of the night put the Bisons ahead to stay.

Gary Tate threw two touchdown passes as A & M jumped off to a 14-0 lead over Henderson. Hart then scored on a 16-yard run and a 41-yard punt return to tie the score. Jerry Malone's touchdown plunge gave Henderson the lead for good and Hart tacked on a 5-yard scoring run for good measure.

Bobby Hill scored on runs of nine, 45 and 47 yards to spark SCA.

Butch Fuller dived into the end zone with 27 seconds left to give Tarleton its slim victory over the Wonder Boys. Tech was stopped twice at the Tarleton one.

Steve Spray Wins by a Single Stroke

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Carol Spray's eyes were misty and there was a quiver in her voice moments after her husband, Steve, had dropped in a birdie putt on the 72nd hole that brought him his first victory in the San Francisco Open Golf Tournament.

"I just couldn't watch the putt," said the pretty blonde who was carrying their daughter, Stephanie.

"It's been a long, hard time. Sometimes we got very discouraged. Sometimes we wondered if we were doing the right thing in gambling the best years of our lives."

"But now, at last, Steve has made it. It took him longer than most, maybe, but now he's made it and that's what counts."

What's the look this season? It's divided, one by day, another by night. Angora dresses and slim jersey sportswear are good daytime outfits. Try them in soft shades of pink or blue. For evening "date" dresses, metallic knit and velveteen will make you a shining success at any gala.

Manufacturer to Defend Product

SKOKIE, Ill. (AP) — The nation's largest manufacturer of the food additive monosodium glutamate, MSG, has asked for nationwide radio and television air time to defend the product.
The safety of the food additive was questioned Wednesday by Winston B. Raskin, deputy commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration.
He said recent studies show brain damage in infant mice which have been fed large doses of MSG.
In a telegram sent Sunday to the major radio and television networks Nelson C. White, president of International Minerals & Chemical Corp., said that "no danger to the wellbeing of humans has ever been evident in its use as a food flavor enhancer."
White said he has asked for the air time based on the fairness rulings of the Federal Communications Commission.
Law Enforcement Issue Before High Court
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to decide for the first time how long law enforcement officers may hold personal property while they apply for a search warrant.
The issue was raised in a government appeal. The appeal arose when the conviction of a man in Washington state was overturned because it took 29 hours to obtain a search warrant in March 1968.
The government is asking the court for more room to "preserve the status quo"—holding on to the personal property which is key to the conviction—while completing an investigation and seeking a search warrant.

Feminists Seek to Sever Marriage Ties That Bind

By TOM TIEDE
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—(NEA)—One supposes it had to happen. There hasn't been enough confrontation in the world. Blacks fighting whites, youth fighting age, capitalism fighting communism. Now, the ultimate: A group has formed that wants women fighting men. The group is called the Feminists, a self-described "radical organization" that has as its revolution the "liberation of all women from the bondage and the humiliation of legal marriage."

These ladies, who meet twice weekly in New York, are an anarchistic. That is, they have no elected leaders. But their principal spokesman is Ti-Grace Atkinson, a more or less veteran of the women's rights crowd. Says she: "Our group is opposed to marriage, all marriage, for the same reason we are opposed to slavery, all slavery. Now, there may be good husbands, just like there are good masters, but that does not make it right. Marriage is simply a contract which binds a woman as a domestic maid without pay. And we propose to see it abolished throughout the world."

And she adds: "If it isn't abolished, baby, you (meaning all men) had better watch out. You think war with another nation is bad. Wait'll you have every woman in the world up in arms. And that time's coming, fellas." According to Miss Atkinson (she won't say if she's ever been married) the provocative future of women began rather noisily the other day in Manhattan. The marriage license bureau was confronted by Feminists who shouted dirty words and issued lengthy statements. Miss Atkinson says it was the first step in a planned program to "educate" women of the world to free themselves from the chains of home and hearth. "I don't know anybody who is satisfied with marriage," Miss Atkinson says (she won't give her age, either). "How can they be satisfied in prison? Have you ever read the domestic relations laws? They are criminal. They are evil. And they imprison every woman who is dumb enough to sign." In general, Miss Atkinson (has she ever had a child? "I won't answer that!") and the Feminists detest everything about the wedded institution. Their immediate combat objective is, "essssh, marriage." And they insist their offensive has already started. Feminists are going to sue marriage authorities in several cities for legalizing "involuntary servitude." They are preparing a bill for Congress which would put housewives under fair labor standards. And of course they are enlisting recruits for the time when full-scale battle breaks out.

Alex. H. Washburn
— But the 10,000 Words Still Are Necessary

Legend has it that Confucius said, "A picture is worth 10,000 words"—and far be it from this editor to deny pictures, he being a photographer and his newspaper averaging 10 local pictures a day.

But what stirs me up is an extract from a Research Institute report dated Oct. 10:

"There's fear among chain ad men young people can't read, a feeling that getting publicity on the tube (TV) is the 'in' thing now."

Such research guff is part of the present-day conspiracy to make communication a one-way street — let the other guys talk, but you, Mr. Stupid, you keep quiet!

TV and radio are marvelous in their own right — but never forget that the greatest communication is the word, written or spoken. It takes words to explain pictures — whether the spoken words on the TV screen or the printed caption beneath a newspaper picture. A picture without words would be like music without lyrics.

This conspiracy against language is not new. For a generation certain misguided teachers have been pushing what they called "progressive education"—preaching that a child needn't know grammar and syntax but could scan a whole page at a time and pick up information in an instant.

Maybe yes and maybe no. But even if he were informed by this method he would be doomed all his life to be a static receiver of other men's words — yet powerless to formulate and express his own ideas.

It is vital to this republic that people who are given the right to vote should also be saddled with the responsibility of learning to read and write. If the time ever comes that they object, then America would be safer if he turned them over to the enemy.

Once upon a time the New York Times won a Pulitzer prize for an expose showing that the teaching of American history had almost expired in our public school system.

The corollary at our local level would be the periodic auditing of every school with a reading-and-writing examination — and whenever any school's average fell below a tolerable standard then all that school's athletic activities would be suspended until its grades were brought up.

America must have citizens able to question and bring to account the politicians who control TV and radio.

Communication has to be a two-way street.

The safety of this republic depends on it.

Appointment Called Ethics Question

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A question of ethics is posed by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's appointment of Erwin D. Barger to the state Real Estate Commission, a Democratic party group was told here Saturday.

Former state Rep. Bill Wells of Hermitage told the group that he believed there were questionable ethics involved in Rockefeller's appointment of Barger, since Barger has been a Rockefeller aide.

Rockefeller, said Wells, is one of the biggest real estate dealers in the state.

Barger was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of O. D. Hadfield, who stepped down as commission chairman when Rockefeller accused him of a conflict of interest.

Wells spoke at a hearing being held by a committee assigned to draft a proposed platform for the Democratic party.

Half of World's Cars Are in U.S., 35% of Households Have Two U.S. Awaits Release of 3 Soldiers

By RICHARD PYLE
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command today awaited further word from the Viet Cong on its plans for the release of three American soldiers.

In a broadcast by its Liberation Radio Sunday night, the Viet Cong said it would free the three GIs as a demonstration of its "lenient and humane" policies.

On the basis of Army serial numbers given in the broadcast, the U.S. Command identified the men as Spec. 4 Willie A. Watkins, of Sumter, S.C.; Pfc. James H. Strickland Jr., of Dunn, N.C.; and Pfc. Coy R. Tinsley, 22, of Cleveland, Tenn. All were members of the American Division.

Tinsley is one of 14 children of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Tinsley of Cleveland, Tenn., and the seventh son to serve in the armed forces. He disappeared last March 9 during an action near Quang Ngai City, in the northern part of the country.

Watkins and Strickland were reported missing in action Jan. 8 and Jan. 9, 1968, in the Que Son valley. The Viet Cong broadcast indicated that both were members of A Company, 3rd Battalion, 196th Light Infantry Brigade. The company 19 months later temporarily refused an order to advance after five days of being thrown back.

The Viet Cong's announcement was repeated several times today but did not say where or when the three men would be released. There was speculation it might involve another battlefield meeting between American and Viet Cong.

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Despite the rise in production abroad, half of the world's passenger cars were in the United States, and about 35 per cent of the households in this country now have two or more cars.

Worrying over how to pay for them—seven out of 10 new cars are bought on credit—may help explain why Americans gulp a thousand aspirin pills every second, or 60 million pounds yearly.

Many people believe diamonds won't burn, but they will if the fire is hot enough. They are affected by temperatures ranging above 1400 degrees Fahrenheit.

Skiing is fun, but it also has become a health hazard. An estimated 50,000 skiers will be injured participating in the sport this winter, and 80 per cent of them will be under 22 years of age. Of the injured, 76 per cent will be inexperienced, so-called "weekend wonder" skiers.

If you want to kill time, you might try counting how many times your watch ticks in 24 hours. You should get a total of 432,000, give or take a few ticks. Quotable notables: "Don't be afraid to enjoy the stress of a full life. . . . Man should not try to avoid stress any more than he would shun food, love, or exercise." — Dr. Hans Selye.

Getting along with people is the major problem in business. It has been estimated that the average industrial manager now spends 80 per cent of his time on employee relations, only 20 per cent on production problems.

It may be debatable whether life is getting better for older people, but a larger fraction of the population is reaching old age. Fifty years ago only five per cent of the American people were over 65; today 10 per cent are.

Worth remembering: "The years are beginning to add up if it takes you longer to rest than it did to get tired."

Toiling Tillies: Office work is still the No. 1 type of employment outside the home for American women. The U.S. laboring force now includes 10.2 million women employed as secretaries, stenographers, and clerical workers.

Bars should put out bowls of vitamins or vitamin-enriched snacks instead of peanuts or popcorn, in the opinion of a University of California researcher. "There is no doubt," says Dr. Pierre M. ## Appointment Rehearing Is Denied

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court Monday denied a request by B. B. McCarley of West Memphis for rehearing in the case in which he challenged the legality of the appointment of Roy Orr as chairman of the Arkansas Real Estate Commission.

Orr was named chairman by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller. McCarley, named to the commission in 1965 by former Gov. Orval E. Faubus, contended the appointment violated state law because Orr was not one of 12 persons suggested by the Arkansas Real Estate Association as a replacement for McCarley, whose term had ended.

The Supreme Court rejected McCarley's contention, and in today's brief ruling it declined to hear the case again.

In a unanimous opinion, the Supreme Court upheld Chancellor Joseph Morrison in his decision not to grant a temporary injunction against construction of a sewage oxidation plant near Star City.

Crawford Ryall of Star City and others had testified that they feared their property would lose value because the proposed plant would be near their land. They appealed Morrison's refusal to grant the injunction.

Chief Justice Carleton Harris, writing for the court, explained, "It is of course, understandable that appellants may have fears that the plant will adversely affect the value of their lands and properties—but the fear of what may happen is not a sufficient ground for obtaining an injunction."

The state Highway Commission lost another appeal from Conway County in a land condemnation case.

School Boycott Threatened

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — The national president of Freedom Inc. says any further disturbance in Texarkana's public schools would probably force his group to call for a school boycott.

Dr. Mitchell Young of Texarkana, the president, said a boycott would show public opposition to forced integration. There have been several small disturbances in Texarkana's public schools this year, some of them in connection with racial incidents.

Fighting Has Subsided in Middle East

By ELIAS ANTAR
Associated Press Writer
BEIRUT (AP) — Most of Lebanon's main cities relaxed today as Arab leaders pressed efforts to ease the crisis between the Lebanese army and the Palestinian guerrillas.

Only the northern trouble spot of Tripoli remained under 24-hour curfew. Early reports today indicated there were no new incidents there, although the guerrillas and local leftists still hold a quarter known as the Old City.

Beirut was under partial curfew but many people ignored it. Tyre, Baalbek and Nabatieh were free of curfew for the first time in five days, and life was returning to normal.

Egypt, Syria and Libya threatened action against the Beirut government unless it supports the guerrillas and their raids on Israel, but Cairo said a cease-fire and negotiations may be in the offing.

The official Egyptian Middle East News Agency reported that Lebanon has agreed to send a delegation to Cairo for a meeting with leaders of the Palestinian guerrillas, Arabs who claim they are refugees from Palestine and are demanding an end to Lebanese restrictions on their raids into Israel.

The general trend is toward "freeing" the Lebanese situation in order to provide a breathing spell in which the feuding parties can work out a compromise, the semi-official Egyptian newspaper Al-Ahram said.

The paper indicated it based its prediction of negotiations on the outcome of a mission by Dr. Hassan Sabri El Kholi, the personal envoy of President Camal Abdel Nasser. El Kholi went to Jordan Sunday to see King Hussein, then met in Damascus with Syrian President Nouredin Atassi, guerrilla chief Yasser Arafat and Libyan Interior Minister Moussa Ahmed.

Prospects for El Kholi to mediate appeared doubtful after the meeting in Damascus produced a statement that Egypt, Syria and Libya "would not tolerate antiguerilla action by any Arab country."

Damascus Radio said the conference agreed on the need to "guarantee complete freedom for Palestinian guerrilla action against Israel from all Arab countries without exception."

While Arab leaders tried to cool off the conflict, guerrilla leaders in Lebanon sent messages to thousands of Palestinian refugees telling them the dispute had to be solved peacefully.

The death toll after five days of battle was at least 47 dead and scores wounded. Seventeen persons died in clashes Sunday.

Nixon Demonstrates He Hasn't Forgotten How to Fight Politically

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard Nixon is demonstrating he hasn't forgotten the arts that once made him a bare-knuckle champion among American politicians.

The President took off the gloves last week and indications are he may keep swinging—at least through next Monday when he delivers his promised Vietnam war message.

Nixon, taking the offensive nine months to the day after taking office, called in newsmen one week ago to defend his choice of Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., his nominee to the Supreme Court. Haynsworth, the President said, was a victim of "vicious character assassination."

Although he spoke softly and smiled often, Nixon's words had a sharper edge than any he had

Will Close Many Bases Overseas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird announced today that 307 military bases in the United States and overseas will be shut down or reduced to save about $609 million annually.

Laird's announcement was the latest in a series of moves aimed at cutting the defense budget this year by $3 billion.

The whole $609 million in savings will take effect when the bases reductions and closings are completed, which could extend well beyond the present fiscal year which ends next June 30.

Under an agreement with Congress, the Pentagon said details of the U.S. base actions, including identification of the installations involved, will be announced Wednesday morning. Decisions on overseas bases will be held up pending consultations with the host countries.

The announcement said the Army, Navy and Air Force installations and activities are located in 42 states and Puerto Rico. There was no word on the number of overseas locations involved.

The moves will result in a reduction of 37,800 military positions and 27,000 civilian jobs. The military outlays are generally included in already announced plans to trim total U.S. military manpower by about 220,000 men this year below the present 3.4 million.

147,000 GE Workers Go on Strike

By TOM CRANE
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Mass picketing, with a few scuffles and arrests, marked the start today of a strike by unions representing 147,000 workers against the General Electric Co., the nation's fourth largest industrial corporation.

Paul Jennings, president of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, called the strike which began at midnight "nearly 100 per cent effective." He said the picketing was "routine and orderly" except for a few incidents "provoked by management or outsiders."

The workers are demanding higher wages and cost of living protection.

The company was trying to keep open its 280 plants in 133 cities and 33 states. A few of the plants are nonunion.

Fifteen pickets and one company man were arrested in Schenectady, N.Y., where 5,000 pickets appeared.

Police were reported to have closed one plant in Lynn, Mass., where three persons were arrested.

GE employs 310,000 workers in the United States and 90,000 overseas. A majority of these are in nonunion, white-collar jobs. But 90 per cent of the production force — all but about 16,000 workers — have joined the walkout.

A coalition of 13 unions has been negotiating with GE. Some of their contracts expired at midnight. Other unions still have contracts but are supporting the strike.

The labor coalition is led by the International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, representing 88,500 GE workers, and the Independent United Electrical Workers, representing 16,000 men.

Some units of the United Auto Workers and the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, the nation's largest independent unions, are involved in the strike.

The largest GE plants with union workers are in Lynn and Pittsfield, Mass.; Schenectady, Elmira and Syracuse, N.Y.; Bridgeport, Conn.; Philadelphia, Erie and Allentown, Pa.; Louisville, Ky.; Cleveland, Ohio; and Fort Wayne, Ind.

Negotiations bogged down when the unions rejected GE's first and only offer, for a 20-cent-an-hour pay increase the first year, with wage re-openers in the two subsequent years of a three-year pact. GE also offered up to 25 cents hourly for special skills.

The current average wage for GE employees is $3.25 an hour.

The unions had demanded a 30-month contract with raises of 35 cents an hour the first year, 30 cents the second and 25 the final six months, with a cost-of-living escalator clause.

They Still Shudder at Black Tuesday

By WHAYNE EISENMAN
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Strong men still shudder at the words "Black Tuesday," the day millions of dollars evaporated in the stock market crash of 1929. "It was like a deluge, nothing could stop it," says Lemuel A. Lewis, recalling that day 40 years ago when 16.4 million shares of stock were thrown on the market with the hope they would bring something—any price at all.

"Black Tuesday" fell on Oct. 29. Because of the vagaries of the calendar, Oct. 29 this year comes Wednesday.

"In those days, a million shares was a heavy day's trading," says Lewis.

Lewis had just taken over as branch office manager in the Greeley Arcade Building for H. Hentz & Co., a New York brokerage house.

Now 78 years old and a registered representative for the company, Lewis still lives with the memory of that day, the chaos and the approaching panic.

"My office was jammed with people who weren't even our customers. The (ticker) tape ran until quarter to eight," four hours and 15 minutes after the normal day's end.

"We didn't even know the price we could execute an order at. There was a feeling that the world had come to an end. Prices just faded away to nothing," Lewis said, emphasizing his points with short, choppy strokes of his hands.

That was the day General Electric fell to $210 from its September 1928 price of $396.50. American Telephone & Telegraph dropped a $100 a share, and hundreds of other stocks plummeted in a frenetic prelude to the depression of the '30s.

But while fortunes were being swept away in a panic of selling on the stock exchange floor, Fred Brenner, then a 31-year-old assistant cashier in the firm's back office, saw the day from a different vantage point.

"It was pretty much an ordinary day for that month," said Brenner, now a registered representative. "We knew about it, but didn't realize what was actually happening until later."

"We sort of felt...what the hell...it's been running up for three years, so now it drops. We had no way of knowing it was the beginning of a depression."

A few days later the message was driven home to Brenner when he looked out his window and saw one of the crash's casualties jump from a bank building across the street.

Brenner wasn't alone in underestimating the horror of Black Tuesday. Political and financial leaders were making optimistic predictions about the soundness of the economy into the early months of 1930.

Lewis Raabin, now a Hentz floor partner, then a floor broker for the firm on the New York Rubber Exchange, remembers the years following Black Tuesday as a period of transition and a tightening of control over the market.

"Before the crash it was kind of clubby," Raabin said. And that atmosphere gave birth to such Saturday afternoon pastimes as brokers betting $500 and more on their firms' amateur baseball teams. Raabin played shortstop for Hentz.

But the attitudes characteristic of days when freewheeling financial magnates bought thousands of dollars in stock with only their reputations as collateral and everybody else could buy for only 10 per cent down, began to die on the Oct. 29, 1929.

That was the day General Electric fell to $210 from its September 1928 price of $396.50. American Telephone & Telegraph dropped a $100 a share, and hundreds of other stocks plummeted in a frenetic prelude to the depression of the '30s.

One of the politest moves is to listen attentively.

Don't pitch any dirt on the Texas Tech Red Raiders. They're still alive and "kicking."

Most folks figured Tech to be on its way out in the Southwest Conference football race after the Red Raiders lost to Texas 49-7. They were 10-point underdogs to Southern Methodist Saturday.

But Jerry Don Sanders provided the "kicking" with a 36-yard field goal with only 16 seconds remaining for a dramatic 27-24 victory.

Tech and SMU both are now 2-1.

Elsewhere around the league things happened according to form. Texas whipped Rice 31-0, Texas AOM beat Baylor 24-0 and Arkansas bombed Wichita State 52-14. On Friday night, Texas Christian fell 14-9 to Miami.

The SWC finished with a 9-15 inter-sectional record.

Sanders' field goal before a regional television audience was set up by what has to rate as the most stunning tackle of the year. Substitute John Howard knocked Gary Hammond, SMU's brilliant flanker, loose from the ball with 1:50 remaining and Dale Rebold covered it on the Red Raider 43. Quarterback Charles Napper took Tech home.

Napper, a sophomore with tremendous poise, was a big factor in the Red Raider victory, hitting 7 of 19 passes for 153 yards, including a 77-yard touchdown bomb to yet another soph, Johnny Odum.

Tech Coach J. T. King said he told his club they would have to win it in the last quarter.

Ladies in Blue Worried Over Service Clubs

By C. YATES McDaniel
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army's Ladies in Blue celebrate their golden anniversary this week, worried that 50 years of providing home-away-from-home at Army Service Clubs for millions of GIs may be clouded by allegations of graft in the distinctly separate NCO clubs.

And the ladies stress the distinction: Army Service Clubs, instituted in 1919 to boost morale of lonely soldiers by providing at least some of the comforts of home, have no connection whatever with the run-for-a-profit officers and noncommissioned officers clubs that dot many Army bases.

But revelations by Senate investigators of alleged graft by the Army sergeants who ran NCO clubs in Germany, Vietnam and the United States has caused some confusion in the mind of the public, says Miss Pat Abernethy, the Army Service Club chief of operations.

That confusion "is the terrible morale blow to our girls," explains Miss Abernethy, a 28-year veteran of working with the club system.

Miss Abernethy's girls are 750 carefully selected women who are instructed by the Army that, "like Caesar's wife, you must be beyond reproach."

The girls—popularly known as the Ladies in Blue because of their uniforms—staff 250 Army Service Clubs at home and abroad, some of which are in Vietnam and Korea.

The Army defines the role of the clubs as combining "the best features of a living room at home, the corner drugstore and a well-run community center."

Unlike the officers and noncommissioned officers open messes, the service clubs permit no drinking and no gambling.

Each club is equipped with

Young People Rap 'Irrelevant' Religion

"The church is outdated," said a college freshman from Wisconsin. "It hasn't changed since the Reformation."

Of the young people questioned in a National Gilbert Youth Poll, 52 per cent felt that religion is not relevant to the needs of young people today. Approximately half of the high school and out-of-school youths felt that religion does serve the needs of young people, while 63 per cent of the college students polled disagreed.

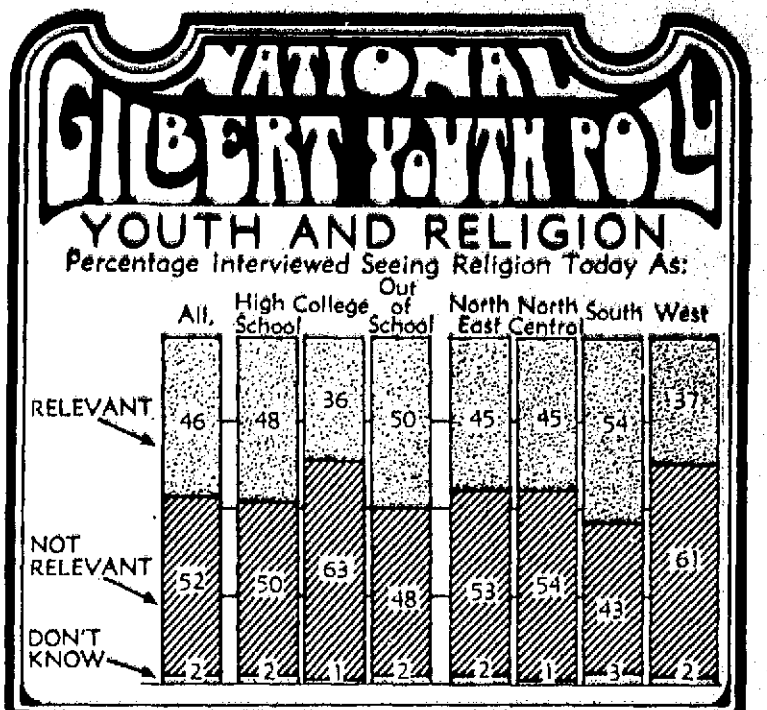

According to the results of the poll of young people aged 14-25, as the respondents get older they become more critical of religion and that dissatisfaction increases proportionately with education.

A college junior from Jamaica, N.Y., believes that "religion is insensitive to the problems of today's youth and much too traditional to be of any value in the modern world." But the opposite was held by a college sophomore from Akron, Ohio, who said, "Religion is more important to the world today than ever before. It helps to maintain values and keeps musical instruments, record players, indoor games and typewriters. The idea, Miss Abernethy says, is to make it easy for soldiers to use leisure time profitably and "often to help them develop latent talents."

Dances and social activities are encouraged.

things in perspective."

Young people in the southern states who were questioned about their feelings on religion had a more positive attitude (54 per cent feel that it is pertinent) than those in other parts of the country. In the west only 37 per cent felt that religion was relevant to the needs of young people, in comparison to 61 per cent who feel, as a college junior from Glen Oaks, N.Y., stated, "There is more emphasis on tradition than on the modern world, which is what young people today are most concerned with."

Why are young people today becoming so dissatisfied with religion? Many said that the reason they feel religion lacks relevance to today's society is that it is "outdated" (17 per cent of everyone questioned felt this is the most important factor). Again, the older respondents tended more in this direction than the younger, with the younger respondents more positive in all respects toward religion.

Other reasons for the feeling that religion is not relevant to today's society: "It doesn't answer the needs of today" (14 per cent); "It is hypocritical" (6 per cent); "It doesn't relate to young people" (9 per cent). A college junior from Glen Oaks, N.Y., stated, "There is more emphasis on tradition than on the modern world, which is what young people today are most concerned with."

Gilbert Youth Research's survey of young people is based on a National Probability Sample of 3,000 young people aged 14-25, which is projectable to the entire youth population of the country.

Army Graft Big Business for a Few

By LAWRENCE L. KNOTSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — For U.S. military men, the on-base open mess is the neighborhood bar and grill, the downtown night club and—only overseas—the slot machine parlor.

It is a place of off-duty relaxation where a noncommissioned officer can order a steak medium rare, sip a bourbon and water and listen to live music.

It also is big business with sales of more than $750 million and profits of $53.4 million last year.

A Senate investigation which concluded last week brought out charges that a small band of sergeants took advantage of built-in weaknesses in the club's accounting system to forge a continent-spanning, extremely lucrative conspiracy to skim funds from the dozens of clubs they managed. And witnesses said four of the sergeants had been protected from prosecution by influence applied near the top of the Army chain of command.

For half a dozen years or more, the witnesses said, these men used slot machine rackets, kickbacks from suppliers and entertainers and formed their own corporation to build a mountain of illicit profits.

Senate investigators, reporting on more than eight months of undercover sleuthing, said they learned Swiss bank accounts, identified only by numbers and code names, were used as conduits for kickbacks and other illegal funds.

Army detectives told of a so-called summit meeting at Ft. Benning, Ga., held by the sergeants and a retired major general to discuss investment of stolen money.

Identities of the military personnel called to testify, as well as the size and scope of their alleged activities, made the hearings sensational.

One was Sgt. Maj. William O. Wooldridge, once the Army's highest ranking enlisted man. Another was retired Maj. Gen. Carl C. Turner, former head of the Military Police.

Wooldridge, at 47 a much decorated, battle-wounded veteran of 29 years of military service, was named sergeant major of the Army in 1966.

Senators were told evidence exists Wooldridge used his new post to enrich himself and to ease friends into positions in which they could continue and enlarge illicit operations.

They also were told that Turner, 56, used his position as Army provost marshal general to block a probe into Wooldridge's activities by Army investigators.

He retired from the Army last spring and was appointed chief U.S. marshal, Turner resigned shortly before the hearings opened. The Justice Department now says he was fired.

In 1967, senators were told, Turner ordered his investigators to remove Wooldridge's name from an investigative file on alleged irregularities by custodians of clubs at Ft. Benning, Ga. The investigators said they also were refused access to a file of a similar investigation linking sergeants at Benning to earlier irregularities in the clubs of the 24th Infantry Division at Augsburg, Germany.

And still later, when the same men were under suspicion for irregularities in the clubs they then were running in Vietnam, Turner again was accused of refusing to allow the files of the earlier probes to be used.

Turner's subordinates testified that when they complained to the general they were told Wooldridge was "just a good ol' country boy" and that all allegations against him were based on Army jealousy.

"These hearings have produced testimony which indicates a serious betrayal of public trust by a small number of men," said Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., acting chairman of the Senate's investigations subcommittee.

Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., called the affair "a national scandal."

Ribicoff's investigation has sparked several new developments. They include:

- The transcript of the Senate hearings has been turned over to the Defense and Justice departments for evaluation of possible military and civilian prosecution. No decisions have been announced.
- The Pentagon has announced a tightening in its control of the club systems, including outside audits of books and centralized purchasing of needed supplies.
- Army investigators are continuing the probe where Senate investigators left off.
- Wooldridge and Turner have been stripped of the Distinguished Service Medals they had previously been awarded.
- Wooldridge, until recently command sergeant major of the joint U.S. command in Vietnam, has been stricken from the list of sergeants major eligible for command advisory positions.

Ribicoff has asked the Justice Department to examine Turner's testimony and that of the police chiefs of Chicago and Kansas City for possible perjury prosecution.

Except for a few loose ends, the hearings into the NCO club scandals have closed.

But a second chapter—the committee's investigation of a worldwide illegal money manipulation racket—is about to unfold.

Canadiens in Rout of New York Team

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The red light didn't go on everytime the Montreal Canadiens shot the puck Sunday night. It just seemed that way.

The Canadiens routed New York 8-3, bunching six of their goals in less than 12½ minutes of the second period and driving Ranger goalie Ed Giacomin out of the game.

Mickey Redmond led the Montreal attack with two goals as the Canadiens scored on six of the 13 shots they took at Giacomin and backup goalie Terry Sawchuk in the second period.

Any semblance of that kind of shooting would have been useful in Philadelphia where the Flyers and St. Louis Blues battled to a scoreless tie in Sunday's only other NHL game.

In Saturday's games, Chicago stung Montreal 5-0, New York tripped Detroit 4-1, Pittsburgh took Minnesota 4-1, Toronto defeated St. Louis 4-2, and Boston edged Los Angeles 3-2.
